

Vardaman And Russell Seeking Frisco Appointment

JACKSON, Miss., June 1.—The outcome of the presidential and county conventions in Mississippi, during the coming week, when delegates to the state convention in Jackson, June 16, will be chosen, is being watched in political circles because of its relation to presidential politics. President-elect meetings will be held Thursday, June 2, and the county conventions on the following Saturday.

Lively tilts are expected between opponents and adherents of the Wilson administration, according to political forecasters. The administration crowd is urging the passage of resolutions at the precinct and county conventions alike, which have full approval of the president's policies, with especial reference to the peace treaty and the league of nations.

Other things which are prophesied are that friends of ex-Senator James K. Vardaman will make a fight to have him chosen as one of the four delegates-at-large to the San Francisco convention, and that an effort will be made to prevent the choice of Gov. Lee M. Russell as a delegate-at-large. It has been the custom for several years to name the governor on the delegation.

In the state convention, it is said the supporters of President Wilson will not ask for an instructed delegation.

WILL SELECT NEW BOOKS FOR SCHOOLS

JACKSON, Miss., June 1. (Sp.)—Revision of school textbooks of Mississippi, which, according to W. F. Bond, state superintendent of public instruction, are the poorest of any state in the union, was begun today by the uniform textbook commission. Books for the coming five years are to be chosen. More than 50 textbook publishers have sent representatives here.

Mississippi public schools have been grossly handicapped, according to Superintendent Bond, by a law in effect until two years ago which prevented changes in more than 25 per cent of the texts at any one time. As a consequence, he said, some of the books have been in use for 20 years and are long out of date.

The law, he continued, "was merely a shrewd scheme of the publishers." The amended law of two years ago enables the changing of all books at one time, if deemed necessary, and that will be helpful at this time.

Prof. Bond said the commission would be in continuous session probably for more than a week.

Representatives of the publishers state that the great difficulty in supplying the needed books will be the short time which remains before the reopening of the schools. It is taken as a matter of course by the publishers that some of the books will be late in arriving.

CROPS SUFFER BECAUSE OF LABOR SHORTAGE

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., June 1. (Sp.)—The truck farmers here are not anxious to see their rail conditions improve and the embargo that has been put on by the L. C. railroad on cabbage in Chicago as they are over the labor shortage.

They are paying laborers, boys and girls, $2 per day for picking beans, peas and other vegetables, and it is practically impossible to get together sufficient labor to get the crop picked and to market. Some growers are turning their pea crop suffered greatly, because they were not able to get the crop picked and marketed while the peas were young and tender.

A number of growers who own auto trucks have hit upon the idea of going to Freetown, a negro suburb, every morning and gathering together a truckload of laborers and taking them to their farms in the trucks in the morning and bringing them back home in the afternoon. It is stated that many negroes have refused to go to the fields at all unless the growers would agree to come for them in their auto trucks in the morning and bring them home in the afternoon.

WRECK FATAL TO FIVE UNDER INVESTIGATION

TULSA, Okla., June 1.—An investigation was being conducted today to place responsibility for the head-on collision of two St. Louis & San Francisco passenger trains near White Oak, northeast of here, early Monday morning which resulted in the death of five persons and injury to a score of others. Confusion of orders is given by railroad officials as the cause.

LEGION MEN HONOR FORMER COMRADES

NEWBERN, Tenn., June 1. (Sp.)—Mullerian American post No. 55, of this city, rendered a special program here Sunday afternoon at the Baptist church at a service honoring the 18 young men of this community who died in France. An unusually large crowd attended, including many men formerly in service. Post No. 55 also played a record, dedicated the principal address.

Neat Little Suit For Baby Brother

Here is a neat and pretty little suit made of two old suits or from small remnants of new materials. The little blouse, the belt and the cuffs on the straight trousers are of white or cream rayon silk and the trousers and trimmings on the blouse are of blue rayon. With white canvas pumps and hair socks the little fellow is prepared for the hottest day of the summer.

Orpheum.

Jean Adair is as sparkling, clever little actress as comes in a season's time, bubbling over with a personality that one in seeing her delineation of Ella in "Ella Comes to Town" just can't help believing Miss Adair is the quint, home-loving wife of 50. "Ella Comes to Town" headlines the new Orpheum bill, which is an unusual summer aggregation.

Miss Adair's playlet is set in one of the wild, romantic places of New York, the kind not now extant, and deals with an aged couple bent on seeing night life at its worst. There is a moral in "Ella Comes to Town," a moral in a rather unusual way. Supporting Miss Adair is a cast of three, especially good. Kennedy and Francis are two black-face bunium throwers who are not entirely original, but good enough to entertain in first-class vaudeville company. They shoot some fast ones over the lights. It's the first time in a coast's age the old Swor and Mack exit has been pulled at this playhouse.

Green and Dean are piano and accordion players with a bunch of jazz in the rep. Felix and Fletcher do feats of skill in a bar act. Herbert's Little Loop and Leaping Canines are well trained dogs, an ideal act for its position.

Olive Thomas in "The Flapper" has a breezy sort of picture which is bound to attract. Miss Thomas gets wonderful results from the girlish part she essays.

Loew's Lyceum.

"Nothing but Lies" feature film at Loew's Lyceum for the first half of the week closes Wednesday night. With its close Taylor Holmes will be making his last stage appearance for some time, as he shortly will be seen on the speaking stage.

This eminent picture comedian has been engaged by Al Woods to star in a new play called "Tomorrow's Price." It will be a comedy-drama in four acts, and is expected to have its premiere in midsummer.

Holmes' present picture is the screen version of the famous stage comedy in which W. L. O'Brien scored such a distinct hit several years ago. Justine Johnston, one of the film beauties of America, is Holmes' leading woman.

Moving Pictures

Majestic.

Enid Bennett in the role of a girl crook who is induced to turn straight by the man she loves is the star in "The False Road," which will be on view at the Majestic theater starting Thursday. The story, which is by C. Gardner Sullivan, is declared to be filled with excitement and thrills as well as a tender love tale.

Lloyd Hughes is the leading man. The picture was produced by Thomas H. Ince for Paramount-Artcraft release. Fred Nible was the director.

Strand.

The streets of old-time London were reconstructed with amazing faithfulness for scenes in the motion picture version of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," in which John Barrymore will be seen at the Strand theater starting Wednesday.

The scenes are correct, even to the cobblestones and displays in shopkeepers' windows. Other interiors include a low London music hall and a completely equipped doctor's laboratory, enhanced by several choice possessions of Mr. Barrymore's.

Memphis Leads In Recruits For Navy

Memphis jumped from 12th to first place in the southeastern district for number of recruits accepted by the U. S. navy last week, according to official notification received Tuesday by D. M. Mayes, C.B.M., in charge of the bureau here. Chattanooga came up to fourth place and left Nashville in 17th place and Knoxville in 18th place.

Mainly through the fine work of Memphis, Tennessee led all states in the same district for the week. Ten of this number came from Memphis. Since Jan. 1, 1930, the state has supplied 684 men for the service.

COMPLAINTS REGISTERED AGAINST PREVENTORIUM

At a special meeting held Monday afternoon at the city hall, complaints were registered against a preventorium which will be controlled by the Jewish temple, adjoining the hospital here. About 15 complaints were registered. A delegation from the Jewish temple, composed of Morris Gaten, Joseph Newburger, Sam Schloss and Sam Slager, filed a complaint. While residents of the neighborhood were represented by Charles Gerber and Judge P. M. Scruggs.

ANOTHER ENTRY IN MISSISSIPPI RACE

JACKSON, Miss., June 1.—The race for congress in the First Mississippi district has been entered by the entry of W. W. Magruder, of Starkville, an aspirant for the seat now held by Congressman Zed Candler. Mr. Magruder's entry created surprise, as it was not known, even among his intimate friends, that he was turning a congressional aspiration. The three other candidates in the race are W. L. Strubbing, of Columbus, former state senator from Lowndes county; J. E. Berry, of Prentiss; and J. E. Hankins, of Leake, the latter having made the race against Mr. Candler two years ago.

RIGHT LOCOMOTIVE THAT TOPPLED FROM TRACK

The big Rock Island locomotive that toppled over into the mud near Hallbert, Ark., which hit a split switch Monday, was righted on the track Tuesday and sent to the shops at Little Rock, Ark., for repairs.

The locomotive weighed about 150 tons and the wrecking crew had difficulty in getting it back on the track. The engine was used in hauling freight in and out of Memphis. The crew escaped injury.
